

We say we believe in grace but we often live as if we are trying to earn God's favor...so which is it? And how can we put away our guilt and shame so that we might embrace what God's grace means for all of us? Whether you read about Jesus life and teachings or the Old and New Testament, scripture is saturated with grace and yet we are still unpacking what it really means. Join us as we peel back the layers and find even more grace and a God who was way bigger than the box with thought we put him in.
